BEAUTIFUL BUILDING.

The most beautiful building which has gone up in Richmond in many years is the new Cathedral at Laurel and Park Avenue, the gift of Mr. Thomas F. Ryan, of New York, to the Cathelles of Richmond.

structure is well under way now.

mond.

The structure is well under way now, and it is easy to see what a magnificent edifice it is going to be. Next to its beauty, its massive proportions impress one. It will outsine in size and architectural beauty many of the handsomest places of worship in the country.

Not very far away, on West Franklin Street, the new Beth Ahaba Synagogue is progressing well. The foundations are being laid and sturdy brick walls are pregage out of the excavations at the corner of Ryland and Franklin Streets. The Baptists of Immanuel Church have their new house of worship appreaching completion. The roof is on and work will soon be concentrated on the interjor.

The sound of the hammer is continuous in Lee District, where many attractive

District, where many attractive but few fine residences are going the Many regard it as a great pity that the owners have not seen fit to build really handsome residences in that section of the city. But they will come in time as the demand for them increases.

Place Loans Here.

Place Loans Here.

A member of the real estate firm of J. Thompson Brown and Company made statement yesterday of a fact not generally known in Richmond, but highly redditable to the city's real estate. He said that much Western and Northern money is placed in Richmond mortgages, in preference to other localities, and they have placed in Richmond real estate loans in the past thirty days of between $40,000 and $50,000, at five per cent, interest, most of which was outside funds, the owners of which preferred the safety and solidity of Richmond real estate security even at five per cent, than other
